HAROLD BOWEN

Harold starred in football, basketball, baseball and track while attending Boyden High School in the forties. He attended and graduated Catawba College where he played football and baseball. His Catawba football team played in the Tangerine Bowl in 1947 and 1948, the same years that he was Co-Captain of the team. Harold came to Lexington High and coached football from 1949-1954. He is now most noted for being the "Yellow Jacket voice" after spending 50 years behind the microphone. Harold is a member of the Catawba College Hall of Fame and the NC American Legion Baseball Hall of Fame.
