

2015 Inductee

WARREN KING – 2015 “UNsung HERO”

Warren King is known by many as the “Number One Thomasville Bulldog Fan” and he is deserving of the recognition. He has been a fixture at Thomasville High School athletic games for for more than 50 years. The school and city have adopted him as their special mascot. In years past, he could be seen proudly cheering the players on from the sidelines, waving the Bulldogs’ flag. Even now in the stands, he enthusiastically chants words of encouragement. King’s genuine love for his school and community can be felt in his greetings, smiles, hugs and prayers. He always has a “good word” and positive attitude for young and old alike.

King also attends the HiToms’s baseball games as an honorary team member. He enjoys offering the players inspirational words and supporting his team by leading the crowd in cheers and songs. He occasionally travels to away games with the HiToms. The team and fans have adopted him as one of their own. His spirit and love for people is spread in every cheer. “Let’s win it for Thomasville!” is one of his favorites.

King is not an inductee to the Hall, but he will be listed as our 2015 Unsung Hero and will be recognized at the 2015 Davidson County Sports Hall of Fame banquet.
